Save time & money

The Evolve and its unique design allows monitor arms to be re-configured rather than re-placed, to meet the needs of emerging technologies and changing environments – adding motion and reach, additional monitors, or even laptops to pre-existing configurations.

Seamless alignment

When a monitor arm is adjusted forward or backward, or rotated from a horizontal to vertical position, the ESI Slider seamlessly and effortlessly aligns monitors side-by-side. This allows the user to set their optimal viewing height and distance without limitations.
